Interflora flower care guide

Top the water every other day and change it immediately if you feel the water is cloudy. Even with flower food, bacteria are finally built into bouquets and can prevent flowers from drinking. Remove any dead or wilting from the arrangement, clean the bouquets with hot soap water and rinse well before filling again. Says, The Wood, Partner & Head Florist, says: To keep your flowers beautiful, make sure you tan-tem and refresh their water every few days. This will help boost their bouquet life.
